10TH ANNUAL MID-YEAR CONFERENCE ON RELIGION AND SPIRITUALITY

CALL FOR PAPERS
DEADLINE: JAN. 13, 2012

REGISTRATION DETAILS

A partnership between Division 36, The Society for the Psychology of Religion and Spirituality of the American Psychology Association and Loyola University Maryland's pastoral counseling department, this annual event is the only professional conference whose major purpose focuses on promoting research in religion and spirituality and creating a supportive academic forum where professionals can discuss the latest research findings and scientific advances in the field.

Established 15 years ago as a small roundtable discussion and now in its 10th year as a major conference this event now attracts more than 200 attendees from across the United States and internationally.

About the Invited Speaker

The author or editor of 17 books on a wide variety of topics bridging psychology and faith, social psychologist David Myers, Ph.D., a professor at Hope College in Holland, Mich.,

has also been published in more than three dozen academic journals, including Science, American Scientist, American Psychologist, and Psychological Science. He has also published articles in more than four dozen popular magazines.

His research and writings have earned him the Gordon Allport Prize, an Honored Scientist award from the Federation of Associations in the Behavioral and Brain Sciences, the Award for Distinguished Service on Behalf of Personality-Social Psychology, and three honorary doctorates, as well as additional research support from the National Science Foundation. In recognition of his efforts to transform the way America provides assistive listening for people with hearing loss, he received the 2011 American Academy of Audiology Presidential Award.

A graduate of Whitworth College, Myers earned his M.A. and Ph.D. in Social Psychology from the University of Iowa.

All presenters and participants attending the conference must register. Please submit your registration form(s) and payment with your proposal. If your proposal is not selected and/or you choose not to attend the conference, a refund will be given per the regular registration refund policy.
